Overtime cuts mean less winter road work

by Caleb Casey
Senior Staff Writer

The Crawford County Road Commission, in response to a budget that continues to shrink due to cuts in funding at the state level, is cutting overtime for a second consecutive year – a move that will likely result in unfavorable conditions on many area roads during the Road Commission's non-work hours this winter.

The Road Commission's primary source of funding for maintenance – money from the Michigan Transportation Fund (MTF), which comes mostly from gasoline taxes, weight taxes, and license plate fees – has been declining by four to five percent per year for the last five years, Road Commission Managing Director Don Babcock said.

"MTF is our only source of revenue for maintenance," Babcock said. "With less gas being sold, less tax is collected and less money distributed to local Road Commissions."

The increase in gas prices doesn't help boost the MTF, Babcock said, since the gasoline tax is a fixed amount determined by the state legislature, not a percentage of the cost people pay for gallons of gas at the

Snow storm blankets region

by Dan Sanderson

A myriad of weather systems coming together dumped several inches of snow on northern Michigan and created hazardous conditions for motorists over the weekend and on Monday.

The snow storm was created by a low pressure system that moved across the Central Plains and up through the Midwest, carrying a large amount of moisture from the Pacific region, said Dave Lawrence, a meteorologist with the National Weather Service Office in Gaylord.

"With all the cold air in place, it all resulted in snow, sleet and freezing rain here and there, and we got hammered," Lawrence said.

The weather system was followed by lake effect snow off of the Great Lakes.

The storm dumped between two and four inches of snow throughout Crawford County, and up to eight inches in some other locations, Lawrence said.

The storm caused the Crawford AuSable School District to cancel school on Monday. The Crawford County Senior Center was also closed, and the Crawford County

Camp Grayling receives funding for battle course

by Dan Sanderson
Staff Writer

Camp Grayling was recently awarded a $2.5 million Department of Defense grant that will allow the military installation to build a range where full platoons will be able to train for combat.

The infantry platoon battle course will be built at Camp Grayling's Multi-Purpose Range Complex, which is located off of North Down River Road near Stephan Bridge Road.

The complex will be used to train and test infantry platoons, either mounted or dismounted, on the skills necessary to conduct tactical movement techniques, and detect, identify, engage and defeat stationary and moving infantry armor targets.

The primary features of the battle course will include one moving armor target, 12 moving infantry targets, one trench obstacle and two landing zones. In addition, the range will include six stationary armor targets, 43 stationary infantry targets, nine machine gun bunkers with sound effect simulators and one house defended by snipers.

The Crawford County Deputy Sheriff's Association is selling Christmas trees in the Grayling Kmart parking lot in order to provide a brighter holiday for some youngsters.

The 12th annual Cops for Kids Christmas Tree Sale has continued to grow in interest every year and has brought people from all over the State of Michigan, either buying a tree or donating money to their program.

The association plans to sell approximately 240 trees, ranging in price from $20 to $40.

Douglas Hill and Black Fir trees are $40, Blue Spruce are $35 and Scotch trees are $20. They will also be selling Christmas wreaths. Twenty-four inch wreaths are $20, while a 36-inch wreath is being sold for $35.

Most of the proceeds go towards the Cops for Kids program, in which the association takes between 15 and 20 kids shopping at the Grayling Kmart

In an effort to operate within its shrinking budget, the Road Commission tried to greatly reduce or eliminate its winter overtime hours last year, and the Road Commission is doing the same thing this year. The cuts in overtime will not affect winter operations on I-75, M-72, M-93, the I-75 Business Loop, or US-127, because the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) pays the Road Commission for work it does on those roadways. Local and primary roads under the Road Commission's jurisdiction, however, will be affected.

"Same thing as last year. We didn't work overtime last year either, except for state highways, which we have to do as part of our state maintenance contract. Any work we do on the state highway system is reimbursed by (MDOT)," Babcock said.

"If we don't start reducing our overtime we'll run through our budget by the middle of February, if not before," he added. "Last year we were pretty fortunate because December was pretty easy on us. I don't know if it will be like that again with the snow we've gotten so far and what's expected."

The Road Commission's regular winter hours for its crew are 6 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, so the cut in overtime will likely have a major impact on primary and local road conditions during the weekends, since workers will not be out blading, sanding, and salting on Saturdays and Sundays.

"People are going to have to drive carefully," Babcock said. "We're not going to have dry pavement and clear roadways until Monday when we can get out there."

The Road Commission's diminishing workforce — another result of the shrinking budget — will also have a negative impact on its ability to keep roads clear this winter. Babcock said the Road Commission has five fewer drivers now than three years ago, all of which are the result of not replacing retirees.

"We're looking at a couple more retiring at the end of the year, but we will replace them. We can't afford to be down any more, but if revenues keep declining that theory may have to change also," Babcock said.

"It's not what we want to do," Babcock said of the Road Commission's cutbacks. "It's coming for all counties. I can't think of any of the counties up north that haven't had to cut something. It's getting so bad we have to cut winter operations."

In an effort to help its economic situation, the Road Commission Board is considering another attempt at the five-year, one-mill proposal that was defeated in the 2006 November election by a vote of 2,910 to 2,734. The purpose of the millage proposal is to generate money for primary road improvements.

Babcock said the millage money would help free up some of the Road Commission's MTF money currently being used in road projects for maintenance.

"The only other way to get more money is if the legislature gives it to us," he said.

The children are also treated to lunch at the Grayling Pizza Hut, before they are taken home with an extra large food basket donated by the Grayling Eagles Club - Ladies Auxiliary.

"It's a way for us to give back to the community for Christmas," said Deputy Shawn Schnoor, the president of the Crawford County Deputy Sheriff's Association. "It's rewarding to take the kids shopping, and hopefully, we're providing a better Christmas for them."

The program also assists in funding other youth-orientated events throughout the county, including the Crawford County Sheriff's Office Bicycle Rodeo, the Grayling Little League and a college scholarship for a local high school graduate. This year, the association also purchased backpacks and school supplies for children starting out the school year.

Lake Margrethe Property Owners study lake levels

by Dan Sanderson
Staff Writer

Members of the Lake Margrethe Property Owners Association are spearheading efforts to manage the levels of the lake.

The lake association has undertaken responsibility to manage the levels of Lake Margrethe for the Crawford County Road Commission for the last 15 years.

A court order, issued in 1974 in accordance with the Inland Lake Level Act, mandated that the lake be maintained at 1,134.4 feet above sea level on April 30 of each year through Nov. 1, when boards at the dam, located at the outlet of Lake Margrethe on Portage Creek, are removed. The lake is then allowed to reach a lower level of 1,133.7 feet above sea level on Nov. 1 of each year, continuing through April 30 of the following year, in order to prevent ice damage to the shoreline during the winter and spring thaw.

Over the last five to seven years, lake association members have been having difficulty reaching the summer ordered lake levels.

The problem has been caused since the Portage Creek dam, and the water flow in Portage Creek, are not adequately reducing lake water levels quickly enough. High water and winds have caused some areas of the Lake Margrethe shoreline to erode, and flooding to occur.

Some property owners have built seawalls to combat the erosion, which is a concern of the lake association, due to silt flowing into the lake and the prevention of the natural flow of water back into the ground.

"The more we have that is natural, the better the water quality is going to be," said Chuck Spencer, a member of the Lake Margrethe Property Owners Association's Board of Directors, who is overseeing the lake level study.

Last month, a gauge was installed on Lake Margrethe, by engineers from the Northwest Design Group of Petoskey, to accurately measure the level of the lake and to determine how the lake reacts once the boards at the Portage Creek Dam are removed.

"It's just more handy for them and precise," said Howard Haselschwardt, the president and owner of the Northwest Design Group.

Lake level data dating back to the 1940s is also being compiled to determine trends with the lake.

Haselschwardt credited the lake association for their thorough records, given the lack of engineering and technical help used in maintaining the lake levels.

"The Lake Margrethe Property Owners have done a remarkably good job given the tools that they have had to use," Haselschwardt said.

An ongoing study of water flows for Portage Creek and at the dam is also being completed.

Crawford County Road Commission officials, who oversee the drain commission duties for the county, have given their blessing for the study. The road commission, however, said they could not commit funding for the project due to budget constraints.

"We don't have the finances either, but we have the most to lose," Spencer said.

Potential dredging at Portage Creek, or modifications to the dam, may be pursued once the lake study is completed.

"I am sure it's going to take another year before we're going to have all of our answers," said Joe Porter, the president of the Lake Margrethe Property Owners Association.

So far, the lake association has committed about $7,000 toward the project.

ALMANACK

by Richard Milliman

Legislature normal: Tax repealed, tax added

IT'S ALL IN a day's work down at the old lawmaking shop in Lansing.

Adopt a tax, repeal that one, adopt a different tax. Ho hum! What else is new?

That seems to be the normal pace for how the Michigan legislature and governor's office work together to write laws these days.

When deadline nears, they stew about what to do, make speeches, point fingers, issue ultimatums, and go home for a little rest.

And when the absolute deadline arrives, they scurry back to the capitol, make more speeches, point more fingers, issue more ultimatums, and finally come to grudging compromise agreement on what to do .... at least for the short term.

We'll really fix this problem later, they tell us. But for now, the finger is in the dike, crisis is avoided, and the real solution will come later.

That's not the way it really works, but it's close, and it's probably the view most Michiganders hold about the legislative process here.

LATEST EXAMPLE is adopting a six percent service tax, then repealing it a couple weeks later and passing a new law with a surcharge on the new Michigan Business Tax (MBT) which has not yet taken effect after it was adopted in June.

Both the MBT and the new surcharge kick in on Jan. 1, 2008.

The late, unlamented tax on services is another example of last-ditch legislative decision making, the details and impact of which were either unknown or underestimated when the short-lived law was adopted.

The service tax proposal was a mixed baggage at best, charging the six percent tax on a nonsensical list of personal and business activities.

Baby shoe bronzing, balloon-ograms and singing telegrams, shoe shining and fingernail care, dating service and wedding planning all were taxable.

Consulting, service contracts and business service centers were taxable. Investment advice was taxable, but not brokerage fees. Skiing was taxable, but golf was not.

The whole thing had no logic and didn't make much sense. As a retired lobbyist commented to me:

"It looks like those interests which had good lobbyists made out all right."

THE NEW TAX solution - a 21 percent surcharge on the new MBT - is designed to replace $600 million that the tax on services was expected to yield.

Proponents claim about 60 percent of Michigan businesses will pay less under the MBT, even with the surcharge, than they are paying now. The other side of that coin is that if 60 percent are paying less, then 40 percent must be paying more.

The surcharge law includes a sunset provision to phase out between 2014 and 2017, depending on expected growth in personal income in Michigan. No growth, no sundown.

All in all, Michigan's lawmaking machinery this year is a textbook example of how not to conduct the people's business. But it's how every budget has been written this year, and how taxes have been written, too.

Incidentally, remember back in January when Gov. Jennifer Granholm proposed a two percent tax on selected services, a plan summarily spiked by Republicans? The two percent idea seems pretty tame these days, doesn't it?

IOWA UPDATE - The Iowa presidential caucuses on Jan. 3 are less than a month away, and recent polls show both the Republican and Democratic races are tightening.

Among Democrats, Hillary Clinton consistently has been leading Iowa polls, but Barack Obama now has pulled slightly ahead at 28 percent, with Sen. Clinton at 25 percent, and John Edwards at 23 percent.

Among Republicans, Mitt Romney built a commanding polling lead in Iowa with massive advertising and intensive field work, but now trails Mike Huckabee, who almost has been living in Iowa for several weeks. The new poll shows Mr. Huckabee at 29 percent and Mr. Romney at 24 percent with Rudy Giuliani at 13 percent.

The margin of error in the Iowa polling is almost five percent, which means both party races are about as tight as they can get.

Things likely will continue to change during the next four weeks, and both Ms. Clinton and Mr. Romney could restore their earlier margins, although probably with somewhat narrower edges.

All of which, of course, underlines the significance of the Michigan primary, which follows the Iowa caucus by 12 days.

If he slips in Iowa, a strong showing in his native state is even more vital for Mitt Romney's campaign.

For his part, Sen. Obama may wish he had chosen to participate here, too, instead of leaving his name off the Democratic ballot, to give Sen. Clinton a virtual free ride.

MORE ELECTIONS - Other election notes from all over:

• United Russia, the party of Vladimir Putin, appears to have won a victory of more than 60 percent in the Russian election, which probably means four more years of power for Mr. Putin .... or maybe a lifetime.

• Fidel Castro has been nominated for a seat in Cuba's parliament, which means he will be eligible to continue to run Cuba, although he has not been around much for the last year or so. At 81, Mr. Castro has been president more than half his life.

Richard Milliman is a veteran newspaperman, and a contributing columnist to several Michigan newspapers.

VIEWPOINT

By Don Babcock, Crawford County Road Commission Managing Director

Rough roads looming

As with many other cash-strapped Road Commissions in northern Michigan, the Crawford County Road Commission will not be plowing or salting/sanding primary and local roads on overtime this winter. Due to a continual reduction in revenues over the past few years, and the increasing cost of road materials, operation and repairs, the Crawford County Road Commission has no choice but to cut services.

Overtime hours will be reduced, if not eliminated completely, on county primary and local roads for winter maintenance operations. Residents should not expect to see the Road Commission working on the county road system after regular working hours. The Road Commission's regular hours of work are Monday-Friday, 6:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

With less gas being sold, there is less tax collected by the state and less funding distributed to Michigan's county Road Commissions.

In order for the Crawford County Road Commission to stay within our budget, we have to cut back. The Road Commission has been forced to trim down the workforce by not replacing retirees with new drivers. Fewer drivers mean longer periods of time to clear roadways. The Road Commission also had reduced services during summer maintenance operations. Residents have seen a reduction in blading of gravel roads and dust control. The Road Commission has also been strained not to upgrade vehicles that are used in the snow removal process. An older fleet means more break downs and more delays.

The Crawford County Road Commission has a maintenance contract to provide winter maintenance operations on the state highway system. Overtime and snow removal operations will continue as in previous years on these types of roadways. The Road Commission is reimbursed for expenditures by the Michigan Department of Transportation. These roads include I-75, I-75 Business Loop, US-127, M-72 and M-93.

Without an increase in funding on the state or local levels, Michigan's county Road Commissions will continue to struggle to stay within their budgets.

It's time for the Michigan legislature to work on improving funding and provide relief to the traveling public of Michigan's roads.

The Road Commission urges motorists to take their time and to be cautious when traveling during the winter months.

Town needs to move forward not backwards

To the editor:

Difficult times are here and now, which calls for changes to get started.

My opinion for the theme park is just that. I want the theme park to come to Crawford County and help this sagging economy.

This park will help our city get back to the way it used to be. People like you want to live in the past and not the present. Wake up and smell the roses for a positive attitude and not a negative one.

Public ice rink would be nice

To the editor:

Just a thought. It would be nice to have a public ice skating rink downtown, maybe in the park. I know we have spent some money on the rink by the city building, but it is a little out of the way. It is a good rink for Jobs are needed to keep this town intact and away from unnecessary behavior. There are no jobs here for people that need one close to home.

This town can not survive on tourism, and as for the gas prices, do not blame the citizens that looked elsewhere my friend.

Many articles have been written, from non-residents living elsewhere, who oppose the theme park. Well you do not live here, so keep quiet.

Even if the theme park scales down, jobs will be given to those who qualify. Minimum wage or not, it is still a job. Shame on you for criticizing minimum wage. Remember we are only one pay-check away from being homeless.

As for the Detroit area, leave that city alone, they have their own problems. Surely they do not want ours.

If someone does not try to save this city, we will all go down for the count, because of people like you. Enjoy the change and quit living in the past. Go forward and not backwards.

Yes, I know everyone has their opinion and I am not afraid to give mine. Change is exactly what this town needs so we all need to go forward and not backwards. All in favor, say I!

City seeks citizens to serve on committees

Municipal governments that are responsive to the needs of their constituents require citizen input into the policy making and governing process.

One way of achieving this goal is to have interested persons from the community serve on municipal boards, commissions and committees.

"The City of Grayling wants to provide necessary and required services in a fashion that best serves our community and we need our citizens' assistance to do so," said Grayling City Manager David A. Thayer. "Our city has a number of talented individuals that have an interest in how our community develops, how our economy grows and the manner in which services are provided. What we need to do is arouse that interest and have those individuals step forward to help direct our future path."

The city is not necessarily looking for well trained, experienced professionals. Rather, officials are looking for the neighbor who lives next door who has passion and cares about their community, its kids and their fellow townspeople.

"A small commitment can and will produce big results," Thayer said. "Normally, there is a reluctance to step forward to help because the person does not know what is required, what is being asked of their time, and if they can do what is being asked. There are a lot of ways to serve, just ask how and what is involved."

The city has a need for people to serve on the following boards:

- Planning Commission - two open seats.
- Parks and Recreation Committee - two open seats.
- Property Tax Board of Review - two open seats.
- Housing Commission - one open seat.
- Downtown Development Authority Board - one open seat.

Applications for the open seats on the city committees can be obtained from Grayling City Clerk Michele Moshier.

Snowmobile Association stresses trail safety

The Michigan Snowmobile Association (MSA) is reminding all snowmobile enthusiasts to ride safe after the trails open on December 1.

The MSA offers programs to teach safe riding skills and to promote its strict peer-enforced "Zero Tolerance" for alcohol. These programs have established MSA members among the safest riders in Michigan.

"Safety is the most important part of having a good time on the trails. This entails knowledge of the latest and most comprehensive safety instructions, and always adhering to a strict zero tolerance policy," said Bill Manson, the MSA's executive director.

Fatality statistics recorded by the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) conclude that a majority of fatal accidents involved three factors: alcohol consumption, a collision and an accident that occurred off a groomed (plowed) snowmobile trail.

The International Snowmobile Congress in June 2002 endorsed a 0.0% blood alcohol level as the only acceptable level for riding a snowmobile. The MSA wholeheartedly adopted the "Zero Tolerance" policy and its motto: "Zero tolerance I say, 'til I'm done for the day!"

Groomed and marked trails are essential to enjoy safe, comfortable snowmobiling. Establishing a permanent trail system in Michigan is one of the MSA's core goals. The overall vitality of the industry depends on a good trail network, but it also fosters an atmosphere of state regulation and personal responsibility that results in a safer experience for all riders. The DNR administers funding for the trail improvement program, which comes from registrations, trail permits and a small portion of the tax on gasoline.

The Snowmobile Trail Improvement Fund is responsible for maintenance of the entire snowmobile trail system. Michigan has over 6,400 miles of trails on public and private lands that are designated for snowmobile use from December 1 to March 31. Trail grooming is done entirely by clubs and business associations, most of whom are volunteers.

Along with the zero tolerance and trail grooming programs, the MSA adopted the "Safe Riders! You Make Snowmobiling Safe" campaign. The international effort established safety guidelines that must be practiced while snowmobiling, such as checking the ground for riding conditions and judgment of traveling speed. The campaign features distribution of free materials, including an instructional safety video and literature on issues like zero tolerance.

The combination of programs and communications made available by the MSA has helped to greatly reduce accidents and fatalities among its membership. The MSA is the voice for snowmobilers in Michigan, and it will continue to stress the importance of safe and responsible riding.

"Our members strive to be the safest snowmobilers every winter. We know that our programs reduce the chances of someone being hurt while riding. We pride ourselves on doing it right in all aspects of the industry," said Manson.

The snowmobile industry generates more than $1 billion per year for Michigan's economy and supports over 7,000 direct jobs.

Beat Your High Heating Bills

• You can actually benefit now (and even save some money for free!) Read on...

You've heard it on the news, and probably seen it in your heating bill: Gas prices are up 50%+. And experts say it's not over.

This signals that prices of energy efficient items will rise. So you can expect hi-efficiency heating systems to cost much more than they do now.

Only a few people will spot this trend and invest soon. The rest will wait around, waste energy dollars and then pay "high demand" prices. It happens every time.

Friendly Alert. But you can get a new gas-saving furnace, at an "old" price to save energy now. So you keep all the savings!

Real Savings. Our Family Comfort Systems can save you 24-35% on heating costs right away! That's just for starters.

You can still get one at last year's price. Once these are gone, we expect an industry-wide price increase.

Also with this offer, you're invited to tell us...

"No payments please." We understand. With approved credit, you don't need to pay until Spring 2008. That'll help you really save!

Better Still At Family Plumbing & Heating you'll also get a complete 10 year warranty. So you save energy and repair dollars with more comfort. Not a bad deal. (But it's not over yet!)

Call us at 732-8099 to schedule a FREE, no-obligation Energy Survey. We'll tell you how much a new system can save you. Plus something else...

No matter what you decide, we'll share ways to make your old system more efficient. You're ahead either way.

This offer will only be available to the first 10 callers. So Call Now! 732-8099

Thanks - and stay warm!

The Bible Speaks

Remembering Sin's Servitude

Romans 6:20,21 reminds us of negative reasons we should not desire to serve sin anymore as believers. "20For when ye were the servants of sin, ye were free from righteousness. 21What fruit had ye then in those things whereof ye are now ashamed? for the end of those things is death."

The only foundation for God's righteousness is personal faith in the person, work, and word of our Lord Jesus Christ for our sins. Self-righteousness which rejects the sacrificial death, burial and resurrection of Jesus Christ for our sins is one of the most deceptive and evil of all sins. The unsaved people hardest to reach are those who feel self-sufficient or self-righteous and have no desire to hear the gospel of Jesus Christ. Jesus rebuked this kind of human righteousness in the scribes and Pharisees. They justify themselves before men, but they were an abomination before God. (Luke 16:15). They were ignorant of God's righteousness and going about to establish their own righteous. (Romans 10:2). These people trusted in themselves as righteous and despise others. (Luke 18:9-14).

The self-righteous do not understand that "all our righteousnesses are as filthy rags" before a holy God. (Isa. 64:6). "10As it is written. There is none righteous, no, not one." (Rom. 3:10).

Sinners have no foundation of faith or fruit from faith. "21What fruit had ye then in those things whereof ye are now ashamed?" (Rom. 6:21a) There is no good fruit from sin. The entire book of Ecclesiastes taught this lesson. Solomon sought satisfaction in wisdom, arts, pleasure and possessions yet he found none. He said in Ecclesiastes 1:2: "2Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher, vanity of vanities; all is vanity." He ended the book saying, "8Vanity of vanities, saith the preacher; all is vanity." (Eccl. 12:8). The pleasure of sin is seasonal and short. (Heb. 11:25). People who live for self and sin end their lives empty, alone, and without hope.

Sinners have no favor from faith. They wind up ashamed of the sins which have destroyed their lives; "...those things whereof ye are now ashamed?" Night and darkness is the choice for sin because of the shame. Jesus said in John 3:19: "...men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil." Thieves steal by night. (Jer.

49:9). Alcoholics are "drunken in the night." (1 Thess 5:7). Judas betrayed Jesus at night. (John 13:30). "5Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness." (1 Thess 5:5). God has "delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son." (Col. 1:13). Jesus said in John 8:12: "...I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life."

Sinners have no future from faith. They face death for their sins; "...for the end of those things is death." Death by sin passed upon all of us. (Rom. 5:12). "...Sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death." (James 1:15). "23For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord." (Rom. 6:23). Don't be hypocritical. "13So are the paths of all that forget God; and the hypocrite's hope shall perish." (Job 8:13). Someone said, "Hypocrisy is the tribute vice pays to virtue." Pastor "B"

About 40 people attended benefit concerts for the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce held on Saturday at Flowers By Josie/Thanks A Latte. Above, A.J. Cargo and Dr. Bill Cargo, from the Michelson Memorial United Methodist Church, sing gospel and Christmas songs to the audience.

Camp Grayling receives funding for battle course

The range will be 4,000 meters long, requiring platoons to go through various scenarios, growing in complexity, as they go through the course.

"The bigger the range, the more complex, the more the soldiers love it," said Col. Dean Brown, the commander for Camp Grayling.

All targets will be fully automated, and commanders of the units training on the course will be able to request specific computer driven scenarios for their troops.

"By the time they get to the end, they will be able to grade the platoon on their tactics," said Maj. Bernie Peters, the range operations officer for Camp Grayling.

Commanders, returning from the battlefield in Iraq and Afghanistan, will provide feedback for the training scenarios as troops prepare for future deployments for the global war on terrorism.

"They bring back their real world, practical, combat experience to help train these troops for what they will see," Brown said.

Training for combat as a full platoon is one of the requirements troops must complete before they deploy for a mission.

Lt. Col. James Gardner, the director of operations for Camp Grayling, said units will be able to do some training closer to home, before deployment, once the battle course is up and running.

"They want their units doing this training in their home states, so this will help with that," Gardner said.

The infantry platoon battle course will be built on a range formerly used for tank training.

"There will be little impact on the environment and the terrain because there isn't much change at all," Gardner said.

While the entire military is facing funding issues, Brown said that the range will allow Camp Grayling to retain current range operations staff. The range is expected to be utilized by National Guard and Marine Corps units based in the Midwest. The course will also be used by civilian police departments for Homeland Security training.

"It certainly builds a strong case for potential growth," Brown said.

Planning is currently taking place for the battle course. Construction is expected to start in the spring and will take about a year, since work will have to be balanced with training scheduled at the Multi-Purpose Range Complex.

Brown credited U.S. Sen. Carl Levin, (D-Michigan), the chairman of the Senate's armed services committee, with securing the funding for the battle course. The battle course was not scheduled to be funded under Camp Grayling's long-range plans until 2012.

"We've been able to make him aware of some of the challenges we are facing," Brown said. "We can't wait four years for this. We need it now."

County brightens up downtown for holidays

by Dan Sanderson
 Staff Writer

Crawford County officials decorated a huge Christmas tree and the county building to help make the downtown area more festive for the holidays.

Earlier this year, the Crawford County Board of Commissioners pledged $5,000 towards decorating the county building and grounds for the Christmas season.

A request was made by downtown business owners and members of the City of Grayling's Downtown Development Authority. Members of a holiday decorating committee urged business owners to decorate with poinsettia-themed decorations for the holidays.

A Christmas tree was procured by AJD Forest Products, off of one of the plant's forestry jobs on state land.

A steel base, created by Rich Goun, AJD Forest Products' maintenance man, holds the tree in place. Bill Gassman, AJD Forest Products' woodlands manager, and Craig Foy, AJD Forest Products' forester, helped locate the tree. Luther Greer, who maintains AJD Forest Products' tractor-trailer fleet, and John Williamson, AJD Forest Products' safety and human resources manager, also worked on the project.

Crews from Millikin Excavating, Inc. poured the cement to hold the steel base.

The tree will remain in place through the holiday season, and will be replaced with another tree every year.

"It's kind of a tradition that we hope to carry on," said Dave Stephenson, the chairman of the Crawford County Board of Commissioners, who is the president of AJD Forest Products.

Along with getting the tree in place, the county building and grounds were decorated, following the lead of the City of Grayling and downtown businesses to enhance the downtown area.

The American Legion veteran's monument at the county building was also decorated for the holidays. Large bows, peace doves and a wreath are attached to the front of the building, and green and white lights were selected to be placed on the building, since those are our school colors for the Crawford AuSable School District.

"We concentrated on the tree and lights this year, and next year we'll try to do a little more," said Paul Compo, the county administrator.

County officials said they were pleased to enhance the appearance of the downtown area, following the completion of the City of Grayling's $1.3 million streetscape project.

"The county building is a major focal point at the end of the Michigan Avenue, and we are trying to do our part to beautify downtown and make things festive for the holidays," Stephenson said.

Toys, donations sought for Christmas programs

by Dan Sanderson
 Staff Writer

Toys for Tots and Crawford County Community Christian Help Center volunteers are seeking books, toys and donations in order to brighten the holiday for area families.

Gearing up for the Christmas holiday, the Toys for Tots program in Crawford County is seeking books and coloring books for children of all ages.

Toys For Tots is also seeking dolls, cars, trucks, balls and board games.

"People who are in need are thinking about paying for groceries and paying their bills, they're not thinking about getting a book or a toy for a child," said Marianne Gosnell, the coordinator for the Toys for Tots program in Crawford County.

The Toys for Tots program, which is sponsored by the Marine Corps Reserves, is marking its 60th anniversary this year and has been run in Crawford County for the last 10 years.

While needy families can get assistance providing gifts through Toys for Tots, the Crawford County Community Christian Help Center is also taking food and monetary donations to help put holiday dinners on the table.

Families, who sign up for assistance through the Crawford County Community Christian Help Center, are provided a voucher to buy food at the Grayling Save-A-Lot store through its Christmas Help program.

Gerry Schroeder, the coordinator for the Crawford County Community Christian Help Center, anticipates a greater demand for assistance as the holidays are approaching since more people in the county are out of work.

"We just don't know how it's going to come out, because there are so many people in need, and everyday there is more," Schroeder said. "The difficult times have just gradually caught up, and people are welcome to come here for Christmas help."

Crawford County Community Christian Help Center, and Toys for Tots volunteers, will be holding their "Christmas Help" program from Thursday, Dec. 13 through Thursday, Dec. 20.

Families must pre-register for an appointment with volunteers to determine when they will be able to pick up their toys, food and meal vouchers.

The Crawford County Community Christian Help Center was founded in August 1992. The agency is supported by gifts, grants and donations from local community service groups, businesses, churches and individuals.

The goal of the Crawford County Community Christian Help Center is to provide food, encouragement, education, support and help to people in need.

To contact the Crawford County Community Christian Help Center for more information, call 348-6046.

Grayling High School's varsity girls basketball squad opened its 2007-2008 season with a 60-45 loss to the Roscommon Bucks last Tuesday at GHS.

Roscommon led 15-5 after one quarter. The Bucks had a 33-20 advantage at halftime. The Vikings trailed by 10, 46-36, going into the fourth period. Roscommon finished with a 15-point win, outscoring Grayling 14-9 in the final eight minutes of regulation.

"Roscommon took a 13-1 point lead within the first few minutes, but our girls never gave up," Coach Kelly Sheehan said. "We fought back to within eight points by outscoring them in the third quarter. I was impressed with how competitive we played. This team does not give up and will fight until the final buzzer."

Laura Boylan had 12 points, 9 rebounds, and 7 blocks for GHS.

JV girls basketball team falls to Roscommon, Gaylord

The Roscommon Bucks outscored the Grayling Vikings 31-17 in the second half of last Tuesday's JV girls basketball game at Grayling High School and defeated GHS by a final score of 51-32.

Grayling trailed by five points (20-15) at halftime, but the Bucks had a 17-point lead (37-20) after three quarters. Roscommon won by 19 points.

Mackenzie Harwood had 13 points for the Vikings. Jessica Zarnick and Kirstie Wakeley each had 5 points. Jennifer Denton had 9 rebounds and 4 steals.

"The girls showed a lot of tenacity and effort during the game. Defensively we worked hard and made a lot of good plays, but made some basic errors that allowed Roscommon to score some easy baskets. We also struggled against the press in the third quarter, which allowed the Bucks to gain a lead by scoring 17 points in that quarter. Our downfall was 32 turnovers and foul trouble, which gave the Bucks a lot of extra opportunities to score," Coach Craig Hofman said.

On Friday, the Vikings lost a road game at Gaylord by a final score of 50-29.

Harwood (6 points), Wakeley (6), Katie Lange (4), and Selina Anglemyer (4) were Grayling's leading scorers.

"We had a rough start. Lots of mental errors, which gave them an early lead. We are not a great offensive team and can't afford to get behind early," Coach Hofman said. "The girls improved on their composure and we had a lot fewer turnovers and fouls. Kirstie Wakeley and Mackenzie (Harwood) put in a tough effort all night long. Jessica Zarnick was very steady throughout the game and also had a very good defensive effort. Katie Lange moved well on offense and had a lot of open shots, but unfortunately her and the rest of the team are struggling with their outside shooting."

"The girls are working hard and we see improvement in small steps. We need to make sure that we improve each game no matter what the score is," Coach Hofman said.

The Vikings play at Boyne City on Friday, Dec. 7, at 6 p.m.

Two new ski slopes have been added for downhill skiers. The upper and lower back trail will be lit so skiers will be able to reach it.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Mango and Almond Yams

4 pounds yams or sweet potatoes
3/4 cup brown sugar
2 medium ripe but firm mangos, peeled, pitted and diced

1/4 cup butter, cut into small pieces
3/4 cup sliced almonds
1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon

Prep time: 20 min
Cook time: 40 to 55 min

Peel yams and cut into 1/4-inch slices; drop into a bowl of water to keep from discoloring. Drain water and transfer to a large pot fitted with a steamer basket. Steam yams for 10 to 15 minutes or until tender when pierced with a fork. Preheat oven to 350 degrees and lightly butter a 13 x 9-inch baking dish. Stir together the brown sugar and cinnamon. Place half the yams and mangos in the baking dish and coat with brown sugar mixture. Disperse small butter pieces over first layer. Repeat layers. (Dish may be covered and refrigerated for up to 24 hours at this point.) Bake at 350°F for 20 minutes; sprinkle with almonds and cook for 20 minutes more.

HOROSCOPES

For the week of December 6, 2007

December 22 - January 19

All things are possible. Keep that in mind this week, Capricorn, as what appears to be the impossible is asked of you. Go for it. Success will be yours.

March 21 - April 19

Silly mistakes bog down a project at work. Step up, Aries, and take control. If you don't, more chaos will ensue, and the project may never be completed.

June 22 - July 22

Finally free to do what you want, Cancer? Try something new. Pursue a hobby, sport or something else you've always wanted to do and prepare to have a good time.

September 23 - October 22

Uh-uh, Libra. Now is not the time for big moves on the career front. Keep plodding along, and eventually, that change you're longing for will happen.

January 20 - February 18

Forget about the past, Aquarius. You can't change what happened, so move on. It's the future that counts, and this week is just the beginning.

April 20 - May 20

A cash crisis is impetus to look for a new source of revenue. Lucky for you, Taurus, one is very close at hand. On the homefront, relationships improve considerably.

July 23 - August 22

A health scare is a sign that you need to slow down. You cannot keep burning the candles at both ends, Leo. Scale back and take time to rest and rejuvenate.

October 23 - November 21

Face it, Scorpio. You have the skills to get the job done. All you need is the right motivation and that will come through a friend down on their luck.

February 19 - March 20

Uh-huh, Pisces. It is time to relinquish control of a home improvement project to someone more experienced. Don't chide yourself. You gave it a whirl, and it didn't work out.

May 21 - June 21

Feeling the pressure at work, Gemini? Give up the reins to someone else. They have the answers. The gift list grows with a major announcement.

August 23 - September 22

Gifts from afar inspire you to reach out to others. Get involved in a local charity, Virgo. The mad dash to complete a craft project ends beautifully.

November 22 - December 21

Nothing is more important than time with your family. That is exactly the gift you will receive this week, Sagittarius. Make it memorable with a special trip.

The Post Master Genius

James McDonnell was the Grayling postmaster from January 10, 1935, until January 31, 1950. He is pictured here in his office on Michigan Avenue, where the post office was built in 1937. Construction of the new building began on July 5, 1937, on a budget of $70,000. The former post office, which was the first in Crawford County, was built in 1883 on the location where the Avalanche exists today.

Patrolling the River

John Isenhauer, of the Crawford County Sheriff's Office Marine Division, patrols the river in May 1966. The Marine Division, was first founded as the result of a collaboration with the DNR. At the time this photo was taken, it was standard for local officers to start out on the marine division before being assigned to the roads. The Sheriff's Office Marine Division still patrols local rivers and lakes during summer months, ensuring that residents enjoy local resources safely.

A Great Day

Grayling residents Allen Carr and Delbert Case were the winners of the first AuSable River Canoe Marathon in 1947. Both young men lost their jobs while practicing for the 120 mile race. During the first marathon, paddlers didn't know what to expect, with many neglecting to bring food or water. Race canoes were not yet standardized either, with design materials ranging from canvas to wood.

Going Downtown
